

NEOSHO READING

The school year is quickly coming to a close. Be sure to look for information about the summer reading program. This will be a great way for your child to keep up with reading and earn some rewards. It is vital that they continue reading during the summer so that they don't lose what they have gained during the school year. They can check books from the public library and the school's library will be open during June while summer school is going on. Reading magazines and newspapers is another way to catch their interests. Have a terrific May and then a great summer!!!
